About This Game

EVOLUTION
A Game developed by a Two-Man-Army

Created in Amsterdam by Tom van den Broek and Jacob Koolen, this is a class based and fast paced multiplayer arena space flying shooter.

Class based multiplayer action

Classes like Highspeed, Fighter, Tank, Stealth and Support.

Extensive upgrading system for customized spaceships

Thousands of possible combinations in the Hangar.

Instant multiplayer Action

An arena-like multiplayer space flying shooter which never stops to have action. It is a game which does not require extensive game hours in order to keep up with your friends. But still some amazing perks can be acquired by gaining experience points.

Perfect game to play with Friends

A fast and exciting game with non stop action. I especially enjoy the freedom of an entire arena in which you are free to fly around in all directions to locate and shoot your opponents.. I played the closed beta, so my review might be subjective. But I still bought the game.

I'm most excited about the ship building, you can keep upgrading. It's really nice to look forward buying a second ship too and you can feel the difference really good. I just bought a Support ship which fits my play style (better control, but more survivability).

I did have to get used to the controls, took me a solid 30 minutes. I changed some controls too (I'm left handed). I never really played a space game like this so moving around without having a fixed horizon made it hard to navigate. Later I got the know some arena's and got used to the play style. Now I'm in full control B-)

Great game! Looking forward to anything new! The ship designs are awesome!. Note: I did play the closed beta. So do as you like with this review.

The game is already pretty playable. Though it is difficult to get grasp of the controls at start and constantly dying of flying against many obstacles, the game gets really good once you get the hang of it. The game still runs and looks okay on my old laptop and is very well playable. If you like spacegames, this game will not bore you.. Great game! Graphics are astonishing. Especially for a two man team. It keeps surprising me that the game like this is made only with two friends. If you can create this, i wonder that you could make with more support...

The controls are kind of hard at the beginning. But once I got used to them I became quite good. Class based multiplayer is a nice touch, the class abilities supply the game with a cool dynamic.

If you like spacegames, action and flight. This is your game!

Sure, there are not many players. But I think this is a great game to support. One day, this game will be played by a lot of people. You have my support.. game looks great tbh. Love it! One of the greatest games I ever played which is made by a "two-man-army". I am really impressed and believe this game and the devs have so much potential. Keep up the good work! I recommend this game for everyone that would love to be in the starting phase of a high potential game. I also see that the devs are communicating very openly with the community and therefore a lot of people contribute to the game. I will certainly try to help to make this game one of the best fast paced space shooters in the upcoming years. 10/10
